[...] Benandonner, who was a Scottish giant, was in Scotland, while Finn Mc Cool, who was an Irish giant, was in Ireland.

One day, Benandonner shouted :

“You smell like a rotten fish !”

Finn Mc Cool was furious, so he took a piece of earth and threw it at Benandonner. But he missed his target and the piece of earth fell into the sea.

It made/left a hole in the ground and formed an island into the sea as a result.

The hole is now a lake, Lough Neagh, and the island is the Isle of Man.
